Faces of Music: 25 Years of Lunching with Legends

Fellow journalist, colleague, and friend Mr. Bonzai has compiled an insightful anthology of his work, including 160 interviews and over 400 photographs of music artists, songwriters, producers and recording engineers.

Starting with an invitation from John Lennon in 1967 to one of the Abbey Road recording sessions for I Am The Walrus, Bonzai's destiny was locked — into a career of documenting influential music makers via his whimsical interview methods coupled with his inventive and highly personalized photographs.

Besides the aforementioned Lennon, there are interviews with Jimmy Buffet, Ed Cherney, Leonard Cohen, Devo, Geoff Emerick, Peter Gabriel, Herbie Hancock, Eddie Kramer, k.d. lang, David Lynch, George Massenburg, George Martin, Robert Moog, Willie Nelson, Phil Ramone, Carlos Santana, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Al Schmitt, Bruce Swedien, Don Was, Brian Wilson, Stevie Wonder, and Frank Zappa.

An award-winning photographer, author and renowned chronicler of the music industry, Mr. Bonzai's work has appeared in Rolling Stone, The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Billboard, Mix, EQ, Sound & Recording, Daily Variety and Hollywood Reporter, among numerous others.

Faces of Music: 25 Years of Lunching with Legends sells for $24.99 and is available from Thomson Course Technology, www.thomson.com.
