

RECORDING

The magazine for the recording musician[®]

Faces Of Music: 25 Years Of Lunching With Legends

Mr. Bonzai, a nom de plume of David Goggin, has authored thousands of articles, mostly on his encounters with industry figures. His extensive background in many facets of the industry and his knack for the human touch have assured him access that made possible the collection of 160 one-page mini-interviews in this book.

Even though published by Thomson Course Technology, this is not an instructional or text book. The well-chosen but brief Q&A segments provide glimpses into the minds of the artists, and the numerous black-and-white photos provide visual relief and amusement. This is the perfect book to have around in your studio—hand it to a client while you're trouble-shooting, and they'll get so engrossed, they'll never wonder where all the time has gone....

Ah yes, who are the legends? A lively mix of artist types and musical styles, from A (Herb Alpert, Fiona Apple et al) to Z (Dweezil and Frank Zappa, Hans Zimmer).

Faces Of Music: 25 Years Of Lunching With Legends. By Mr. Bonzai. 372 pp., 9¼" x 10½", hardbound. Thomson Course Technology, 2005. ISBN 1-59863-024-5. $24.99.

